

SHARE YOUR VOICE WITH NEW WORKS PROJECT PUBLISHING

At New Works Project, our mission is to amplify every voice, especially those from underrepresented communities. We're expanding into print music to empower composers like you by making your music more accessible than ever before.

Why Publish with New Works Project?

- Amplify Your Reach
- Your music deserves to be heard. Through our growing network of vendors and music stores, we're ensuring your compositions reach performers, educators, and audiences everywhere.
- Champion Your Creativity
- Our publishing contracts keep you in control. You retain full copyright ownership, while we handle the sales, printing, and distribution.
- Fair Profit Sharing
- Your art, your earnings. With a 50/50 profit split, we're invested in your success and committed to supporting your journey as a composer.
- Focus on Creating
- Leave the logistics to us—printing, distributing, and selling your music—so you can focus on writing the next great piece.

Aligned with Our Mission

This isn't just about publishing—it's about creating access, breaking down barriers, and connecting your music with performers and audiences who need it. By partnering with us, you're helping to shape a more inclusive, vibrant future for classical music.

Submission Details

Submission guidelines and sample contracts will be available by December 15, 2024. Founding Members will be among the first to access and submit their work, so join our community today.

Your Music, Amplified

When you publish with New Works Project, you're not just distributing your compositions—you're joining a mission to elevate every voice in music. Together, we're building a world where diverse stories are heard, celebrated, and performed.

Be part of the change.

Visit our website to learn more and join the New Works Project Community. Let's amplify your music and mission together.